THE MEN BEHIND THE TEAM

JOHN F. BASSETT

The man responsible for running the Tampa Bay Bandits is a man with as many diverse interests as positions on a football team.

John F. Bassett, 44, the Managing General Partner of the new United States Football League Bandits, is a film producer, real estate developer, small business entrepreneur and professional sports manager.

Bassett, a native of Toronto, Canada, also played top international tennis and squash as a collegian as well as football and hockey on the intercollegiate level.

"The idea of a new professional sports league is not a new one," says Bassett, whose background includes ownership of the Toronto Argonauts, of the Canadian Football League, and the Memphis Southmen, of the World Football League, "but with the expanding TV market, the different season, and the strength of the league ownership, the United States Football League has an excellent chance to be a major factor in American sports."

The establishment of a team in Florida was a natural for Bassett. His real estate interests are centered in Sarasota and one of his four children, Carling, 15, bases her professional tennis career from the Nick Bollettieri Tennis Academy in Bradenton.

"After my other football involvements, Florida was the only area that could entice me to return to the game," says Bassett.

Bassett also produced the film "Spring Fever" in Sarasota which is showing across the country and he is developing other scripts to be shot in the area as well.

His current interests come as a result of 25 years of journalism, television and pro sports involvement at all levels.

Bassett graduated as Gold Medalist from Huron College, University of Western Ontario, in 1961, is married to the former Susan Carling and they have four children: John, 22; Victoria, 20; Carling, 15, and Heidi, 13.

THE MEN BEHIND THE TEAM

John F. Bassett, cont'd.

He is a supporter of numerous philanthropic organizations and was the Man of the Year in Toronto in 1963 and Memphis, Tennessee, in 1975. He has also received many awards for his work with charitable and club groups.

A former Davis Cup tennis player, Ontario squash champion, and college quarterback, Bassett is totally at home with the Bandits.

"My fellow owners, Steve Arky and Burt Reynolds, our limited partners, our coaching staff under Steve Spurrier, our staff and players, are all committed to this being a great addition to the community and a first class and winning organization," Bassett says.

STEPHEN W. ARKY

Steve Arky, one of Miami's most prominent lawyers, is also achieving some fame as one of the general partners of the Tampa Bay Bandits.

Arky was educated at Washington University where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree and a Juris Doctor degree.

He is president of the law firm of Arky, Freed, Stearns, Watson and Greer, P.A., and is actively involved in a number of South Florida civic and professional associations.

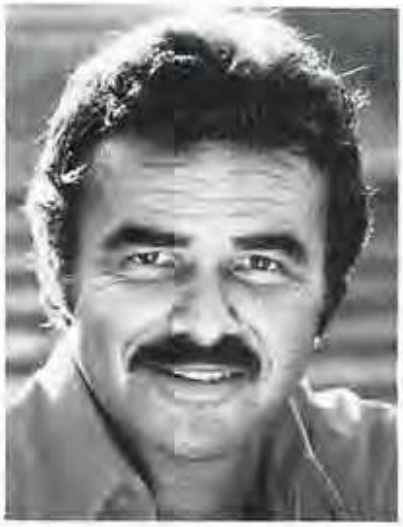
Among his professional associations, Arky is a member of the Board of Trustees of Florida International University, is director of the Economic Society of South Florida, is a member of the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce, and is Chairman of the Board of the Insurance Exchange of the Americas.

Arky is also involved with the Greater Miami Jewish Federation (lawyers' division) and is a member of the Citizens' Board of the University of Miami and a member of the South Florida Coordinating Council.

Born in St. Louis, Missouri, he and his wife Marlin have two children, a daughter Lisa and a son, Todd.

THE MEN BEHIND THE TEAM

BURT REYNOLDS



In a lifetime of seemingly endless fulfilled dreams, Burt Reynolds has fulfilled yet another by co-owning the Tampa Bay Bandits.

In December of 1981, Reynolds became only the third actor in the history of motion pictures to be named the Number One Box Office Star for the fourth consecutive year.

Born in Waycross Georgia, but raised in South Florida, Reynolds was a high school football star who was faced with the decision of attending West Point Military Academy or Florida State University after graduation.

"At an early age, athletics, especially football, was the only way I had discovered to express myself," says Reynolds on his decision to attend FSU.

While at FSU, Reynolds played halfback for the Seminoles and earned respectable grades. He was named All-Florida and All-Southern Conference halfback.

Reynolds, who now lives in Jupiter, Florida, was scouted professionally by both the Baltimore Colts and the Detroit Lions, and was on his way to becoming a professional athlete when a serious car accident injured his knees and sidelined his football career.

But now, by becoming a general partner of the Tampa Bay Bandits, Reynolds can once again get involved with a sport that still holds a certain soft spot in his heart. ★

HEAD COACH

STEVE SPURRIER

One of the great things about the United States Football League, according to Tampa Bay Bandits Head Coach Steve Spurrier, is that every team starts with the same thing ... equality.

"Everybody started at the same time," Spurrier says. "They awarded 12 franchises and each owner went out and hired his people. We're all starting out on an equal basis."

For Spurrier that's a nice change after being a coach at Duke University for the past three years. The coach says that while he was on that coaching staff "we felt we didn't have the same chances when we played Clemson and North Carolina and Maryland and some of the bigger schools that had more money and better equipment than we did."

"This is exciting in Tampa," he continues, "because every team has the same chances as the other teams."

Spurrier, who was born in April of 1945, is fairly young for a head coach, but he already has a good deal of experience under his belt and he is hoping to use that experience to guide the Bandits. Before taking over the reins of the Bandits, Coach Spurrier served under some excellent college coaches. He began his coaching career under Doug Dickey at the University of Florida in 1978. From there he moved to Atlanta, in 1979, where he worked as an assistant to Pepper Rodgers at Georgia Tech and from 1980 until 1982 Spurrier was the offensive coordinator and quarterback coach at Duke University.

Besides all the knowledge Spurrier picked up while coaching in the college ranks, you can be sure that he also absorbed a lot of football during his many years as a player — both in college and in the pro ranks.

Even as a high school athlete Spurrier was already reaching national acclaim by being named All-American. But things were only starting to happen for the native of Miami Beach. From high school he went to the University of Florida where, as the quarterback of the Gators, he captured the Heisman Trophy in 1966.

After college Spurrier headed for the pros where he played with the San Francisco 49ers from 1967 until 1975. Then in 1976 he became the first quarterback for the NFL expansion team the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Which brings us back to the Bandits and the job at hand. "Our team doesn't have any high priced players and to be quite honest with you, I don't think we need any right now. I think that the high priced guys that we have a chance to sign may not be better than what we already have. I think the players that we have realize that they're all making about the same money. The harmony on our team right now is excellent.

"My job here has been pretty easy because we have such a good management team here. All I really had to do was hire the assistant coaches and get the players ready to play football. And that is what coaching should be all about."

Coach Spurrier says his coaching strategy is pretty much a mixture of things he learned both as a player and later as a coach in college. But he does admit most of what he'll be teaching to the Bandits will be things he did pick up in the past five years.

"While I was at Duke I was offensive coordinator and I could make up the plays, make up the offense and put in any play I wanted to. Each year, for the past three years, my offense has changed a little bit.

"I have always felt," he goes on, "that any coach or any person should have an attitude that if there is a better way to do anything then go ahead and change it. Even since I've come down here with the Bandits my offense has changed a little bit from what I did at Duke.

"I feel there is a better way to do it than I did it last year."

Spurrier says he has built the offense in Tampa around the two excellent throwing quarterbacks, John Reaves and Jimmy Jordan. "My offense is based on the quarterback dropping back into the pocket and throwing the ball. We do run out of the pocket occasionally, but that's only occasionally. If we didn't have a guy who could do that I believe we'd go out and try to find one because I feel a quarterback on a good team should make good decisions. I don't think he should run from sideline to sideline and get the heck knocked out of him because the quarterback can't think clearly that way.

"I've always liked to spice up the game with a few ball plays that people may not have seen before. Certainly we plan on doing that. I've been under systems where coaches say you didn't win with razzle dazzle, you can't win doing this, that and the other, but I've always tried to practice the plays every day. That way they become a part of our offense, they aren't some form of trickery." ★

BANDITS ON TV

Keith Jackson

Lynn Swann

When the United States Football League was formed in May, 1982 there was much skepticism regarding the possible long term success of another professional sports league. One very solid reason why that skepticism has subsided is the television committment made to the league and its member franchises by ABC Sports, ESPN, the 24 hours cable sports network, and locally by such stations as WTOG Television.

ABC Sports will televise a United States Football League game every Sunday afternoon beginning March 6. The championship game will be telecast live, in prime time on Sunday, July 17 (8:00 - 11:15 pm EDT). Both play-off games — one on Saturday, July 9, the other on Sunday, July 10 will also be seen live on ABC. There will also be a regular season game presented live in prime time on Friday, June 17.

BANDITS ON TV

ESPN will carry 34 games throughout the regular season beginning March 7. They will cablecast two USFL games per week, one game every Saturday night at 8:00 and another game on Monday evening at 9:00.

Locally, the Bandits can be seen on WTOG Television, Channel 44. The St. Petersburg based station, one of the nations top 10 independent television stations, is owned by Hubbard Broadcasting Co. from Minneapolis. Based on the Bandits committments to ABC and ESPN, Channel 44 will broadcast live three Tampa road games back to the Bay area: on April 9, Tampa Bay travels to the Rockies to pan for the Denver Gold. Game time from Denver is 8:00 Eastern time. WTOG will also broadcast the Bandits Memorial Day game May 30 against the Michigan Panthers from the Pontiac Silverdome. Game time that Monday evening is 6:00 Eastern time. The final WTOG telecast is set for Sunday, June 19 at 1:30 when the Bandits visit cozy Nickerson Field in Boston to play the Boston Breakers.

Whenever the Bandits are seen on television, you fans will be treated to quality broadcasts and announcers. The ABC crew of Keith Jackson and Lynn Swann will be joined by ESPN's Jim Simpson and Paul McGuire. WTOG Sports Director Randy Scott will handle the local play-by-play. He will be joined by former Florida All-American Richard Trapp and veteran sportscaster from WPEC-TV in West Palm Beach, Jim Gallagher.

BANDITS ON WFLA RADIO

The Bandits can be heard on WFLA Radio (AM97). WFLA is the flagship station for a state wide radio network.

The broadcast crew for the Bandits games on radio is one of the most popular teams in the entire State of Florida.

Both Vic Prinzi and Gene Deckerhoff have become familiar voices to fans of the Florida State Seminoles.

Deckerhoff does the play-by-play on the Seminoles sports network where he handles football, basketball and baseball. On two occasions—1979 and 1980—he was named Florida Sportscaster of the year.

Gene Deckerhoff

Vic Prinzi

Prinzi offers his colorful comments and insights to the Seminoles football broadcasts. He is a former quarterback from Florida State University where he had a running back by the name of Burt Reynolds. When he's not in the broadcast booth, Prinzi works for a Tampa food brokerage firm.

Sports fans can be sure that the knowledge and expertise that these two pros have gained over the years will add a great deal to each and every Bandits game.

WFLA radio personality Jack Harris will join Deckerhoff and Prinzi as the third man on the network. Harris has been in broadcasting for 17 years and has been with WFLA for almost 13 years.

The Bandits have also established a Spanish radio network that will broadcast all of the team's games.

To tune in the games, in Spanish, turn your dial to 1300 to pick up WTYM-AM, the Bandits flagship station for the Spanish broadcasts.

Handling the play-by-play for the Network is Jose Rodriguez.

THE STEVE SPURRIER SHOW

Every Monday evening at 7:30 pm, Bay area fans can tune in to Channel 44 (WTOG-TV) to watch the Steve Spurrier Show, hosted by Channel 44 Sports Director Randy Scott.

Coach Spurrier is joined every week by a specialist on his coaching staff and by an outstanding player from the previous day's game. During the show, in-studio guests can ask questions and are encouraged to participate.

Channel 44 is one of the top ten independent television stations in the country and is an affiliate of Hubbard Communications of Minneapolis, Minnesota. The show is specially produced by WTOG's Director of Special Projects, Dick Dailey.

OPPONENTS

BANDITS FINISH PRESEASON UNBEATEN

During Tampa Bay's training camp, the Bandits played three exhibition scrimmages. On Saturday evening, February 12, the Bandits faced the Boston Breakers in Orlando's Tangerine Bowl. In the contest marred by driving rain, Tampa Bay outsloshed the Breakers 10-3.

The following weekend, on a cool evening in Jacksonville, the Bandits outran the Washington Federals 20-7.

Tampa Bay's final preseason contest brought them back to the Tangerine Bowl where they routed the Philadelphia Stars 31-3.

Finishing the preseason unbeaten gave the Bandits the momentum they needed to get off to a very successful start in their first ever season.

USFL Commissioner

The career experience and qualifications that Chet Simmons brings to his new position as Commissioner of the United States Football League could be referred to as "the state of the art."

Whereas other league leaders in the various professional sports come from backgrounds in public relations, the law, or actual participation in the sport they administer, Simmons, in an era dominated by television, brings to the USFL a career in sports television that spans four decades.

His background also includes several ventures constructed from the ground up, experience that is immediately applicable to the task of launching the USFL's inaugural campaign.

CHET SIMMONS COMMISSIONER

Prior to accepting the challenge of guiding the USFL, Simmons was president and chief executive officer of the Entertainment and Sports Programming Network, Inc. (ESPN), where his ability to build, organize and manage an all-new entity was a prime factor in ESPN's current recognition as the most successful operation of its kind.

From 1977 to 1979, Simmons was president of NBC Sports, a network he had served as a major sports executive since 1964. During that period, his capacity for organizing new enterprises resulted in the network's strong coverage of baseball, basketball and many other sports, as well as professional football.

He was also a major contributor to the development of the successful Sports World show and was highly instrumental in securing the 1980 Summer Olympic Games for the network.

Simmons began his television career in 1957 when he joined Sports Programs, Inc., which soon developed into the ABC-TV unit responsible for the network's sports programming.

Thus, the USFL becomes the second professional football league with which Simmons has been directly involved. While with ABC-TV, he was instrumental in the development of the television package when the American Football League made its debut.

He continued to work with the AFL when he moved to NBC, and that association is recognized as having been extremely important to the AFL's survival through its early years and into its eventual merger with the National Football League.

Simmons was born in New York City and raised in Ossining, NY and Pawtuckett, RI. An alumnus of the University of Alabama, he did his graduate work in radio and television at Boston University. He and his wife, Harriet, have four children and live in Cos Cob, CT.

USFL ANNOUNCES RULE CHANGES

The USFL has adopted several rule modifications for its inaugural season in the interest of player safety and the betterment of the game, Commissioner Chet Simmons announced.

"Our coaches feel that these rules are necessary and long overdue," said Simmons. "It is our intention to provide extra measures for safety to our players as well as to offer the fans a more exciting brand of football."

Rules affected include: pass interference, blocking below the waist, the two-point conversion, use of a kicking tee and stopping the clock.

In order to make the penalties for defensive and offensive pass interference more equitable, the USFL has amended the rules to read: a) offensive pass interference, including illegal advance by ineligible players beyond the line of scrimmage, will result in a loss of down and 10 yards from the previous spot; b) defensive pass interference will result in a loss of 15 yards from the previous spot and an automatic first down for the offense. If the foul is intentional or deliberate, the result will be a first down for the offense at the spot of the foul.

On all kicks, the rules have been changed to prohibit all players from blocking below the waist.

"Prevention of blocks below the waist will be an asset in the avoidance of serious injury to a player's leg and/or knee," according to Cal Lepore, USFL supervisor of officials.

Teams may elect to try for a two-point conversion by a run or pass following a touchdown, thus creating extra interest and suspense for fans and providing strategic choices for coaches throughout the game.

Also, teams will have the option of using a flat one-inch kicking tee on all field goal attempts and one after tries.

The clock will be stopped in the last two minutes of each half when the offense registers a first down. After the ball has been spotted and the chains reset, the clock will start on the referee's ready signal.

These changes were recommended by the USFL Competition Committee, which consists of Chairman Chuck Fairbanks, president and head coach of the New Jersey Generals; George Allen, chairman of the board and head coach of the Chicago Blitz; John Bassett, managing general partner of the Tampa Bay Bandits; Peter Hadhazy, USFL director of operations and liaison for the League office; Red Miller, general manager and head coach of the Denver Gold; John Ralston, general manager and head coach of the Oakland Invaders; and Randy Vataha, general partner/treasurer and secretary of the Boston Breakers.

Site Priority

The division winner with the best won-lost-tied percentage will host the wild card team; the division winner with the second-best won-lost-tied percentage will host the division winner with the third-best won-lost-tied percentage. However, if the wild card team is from the same division as the division winner with the best won-lost-tied percentage, the wild card team will play at the division winner with the second best won-lost-tied percentage and the division winner with the third-best won-lost-tied percentage will play at the division winner with the best won-lost-tied percentage.

CAN AMERICA WIN THE '84 GAMES?

Every nation roots for its Olympic athletes. America is no exception. We've had plenty of great ones to root for, too.

But in overall medals, the U.S. Team hasn't won since '68.

If Russia and East Germany have more talented or more dedicated athletes, they deserve to win.

But at Miller High Life,® we believe the finest pool of athletic talent is right here in America. And that all it needs is a better chance to develop.

The U.S. Olympic Training Center.

A stronger commitment to our amateur athletes has begun. The U.S. Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs is proof.

The goal of the Center is to give athletes with Olympic potential, and the desire to fulfill it, the chance to become as good as they can be.

Opened in 1977, the Center is getting better every year. Now, more than 500 athletes can stay there each day. Transportation to and from, room, board and use of facilities are free.

Among the many facilities provided are one of the best 400 meter tracks in the world and a new field house with 6 gyms. Plans are underway for a swimming and diving complex and an ice skating arena.

But facilities are just part of the story.

Helping our athletes get ready.

For many years now, Russia and East German Olympic hopefuls have been exposed to the most modern training concepts. Here that hasn't always been the case. But it's changing. At the U.S. Olympic Training Center, our athletes, often along with their coaches, can take advantage of the latest advances in equipment design, training techniques and sports medicine.

These are things our athletes want to know and need to know if they're going to be the best they can be.

The '84 Games are being won today.

About 37 men's and women's teams train at the Center. Thousands of athletes will go there between now and the '84 Games.

Many are there right now. Because gold medals have to be won right now.

There's no guarantee the U.S. Team will win the most medals in '84 or even in '88. But there's no guarantee it won't.

Let's give it our best shot.

The Olympic motto reads, "The essential thing is not to have conquered but to have fought well."

If we want to give our athletes the chance to put up the best fight they can, the Center may only be a start. But it's a good start.

At Miller High Life, we're proud to be the sponsor of the U.S. Olympic Training Center and many U.S. Amateur Teams.

We've guaranteed a minimum of $3 million to the Center. And we hope more corporations and individuals join us in an on-going effort to help our aspiring Olympians catch their dreams. If we really believe America's approach to amateur athletics is the best approach, let's prove it. Send tax-deductible donations to U.S. Olympic Training Center Fund-"Gold", Colorado Springs, CO 80950
